Centennial School District Recognized by ISKME as Exemplary School District

Centennial School District (CSD) has been selected by the Institute for the Study of Knowledge Management in Education (ISKME) as its exemplary school district for making resources more accessible for students and families.

Dateline: [Warminster, PA, January 19, 2023].

Centennial School District (CSD) has been selected by the Institute for the Study of Knowledge Management in Education (ISKME) as its exemplary school district for making resources more accessible for students and families. Digital liaisons from Centennial School District attended a "train-the-trainer" professional development with ISKME this past fall and, since then, have provided "turn-around training" for faculty and staff in elements of digital accessibility for learning materials and district resources.

CSD wants to extend a special congratulations to our employees who spearheaded this effort: Annemarie Catalano (Log College Teacher), Kristin Herman (CVLA Coordinator), Dina McCaffery (WTHS Teacher), and Nate Ross (Communications and Marketing Specialist).

Established in 2002, ISKME is an independent education nonprofit whose mission is to improve the practice of continuous learning, collaboration, and change in the education sector. In addition, ISKME conducts social science research, develops research-based innovations, and facilitates innovation that improves knowledge sharing in education.

Superintendent Dana T. Bedden said, "We are proud of our team's work to create more accessibility for our students and families in CSD. Information is only helpful if people can access it. This project is one of several we are working on in CSD to improve accessibility."

Please contact Kristen Herman, CVLA Coordinator, via Mr. Nate Ross for more information.
